BROOMSTICK WINS FROM MIGHTY PORT WELLS

GIRL WITNESS FOR WOOTEN DEFIES JEROME

Pretty Miss Trimble Sticks to Her Story Despite Threats of Indictment.

Though threatened with prosecution for perjury because she swore on the witness stand yesterday in the trial of John W. Wooten that she had been bullied into making a false affidavit by Assistant District Attorney Kresel, Miss May F. Trimble stuck to her testimony to-day when taken to the District Attorney's office.

Miss Trimble is twenty-one years old. She was formerly employed as stenographer in the Federal Bank, and her testimony was given in favor of Lawyer Wooten, charged with the larceny of a $1,000 check from David Rothschild, the wrecker of that bank.

Before going to the District Attorney's office today, the young woman went to the office of Otto Rosinsky, at No. 34 Broadway. He is Wooten's attorney. County Detectives Reardon and Roberts accompanied her from her Brooklyn home to this city and practically had her in custody throughout the journey.

Mr. Rosinsky said after a half-hour's interview with her that she maintains her affidavit made in Mr. Kresel's room was false, and that she told Mr. Kresel it was false when she signed it. She was made to sign it, she declares, even after she had told Mr. Kresel that it was not true.

"I examined her very carefully in the matter," said the lawyer, "and told her that she might rely on our confidential relations of attorney and client and upon her own oath. She replied, however, that her testimony had been true in every detail, she asserts that when she went home after signing the affidavit for Mr. Kresel, she told her mother she had been made to swear to what was not true."

Arriving at the District Attorney's office, Miss Trimble said that whenever the District Attorney was ready to hear her story she would go before him and reiterate all she had said before. She announced that nothing would shake her in the statement she had made on the stand under oath.

Mr. Jerome expressed sympathy for the stenographer. He said he believed she had been subjected to improper influence.

"I don't like to see this girl crushed between the upper and the lower millstones," said Mr. Jerome. "I would like her to have advice from some competent person connected with this office or with the cause growing out of the Federal Bank matter. At any rate, I shall not proceed in this matter until after the Wooten trial is concluded. I do not think it manly or fair to involve this young woman in such a scrape. I had Detective Reardon follow her home and keep watch last night for her protection."

The Wooten trial was continued this afternoon at two o'clock, with plenty of time to think it over, would come into court and repeat her testimony of yesterday.

Wooten took the stand for redirect examination.

He testified that Rothschild was eager to get the appointment from the court as administrator of the Federal Bank because he could use it as an advertisement among clients of the east side.

That, Mr. Jerome, former president of the Federal Bank, in rebuttal, denied Miss Trimble's story of Wooten signing a check when she was not present.

Wooten took the stand and testified that Wooten had told him the surety company of which Matthews was the representative positively demanded $1,000 premium for second mortgage guarantee of his bond.

NO TROOPS TO STOP RACE TRACK BETTING.

New York Decides to Defer the Case to Prevent Disturbance of Business.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 27.—In view of the fact that following the arrest made yesterday at Delmar race track all operations in the betting ring were suspended, word came from Jefferson City to-day that day. Police will not send out an armed force to assist in enforcing the anti-betting law.

It was announced that racing would be resumed today at a P. M. session. It was stated that the police would not make arrests every day, but would stick to the betting, waiting until the courts have passed upon the case before them.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For the thirty-day period ending at 6 P. M. Wednesday, June 29, New York City and vicinity: Partly cloudy, with showers.

LADSARION, AT 10 TO 1, TAKES THE FIRST RACE.

Bracing Weather Attracts a Large Attendance—Early and Often at 20 to 1 Captures the Third Race From a Big Field.

BY FRANK W. THORP.

(Special to The Evening World.) SHEPSEAD BAY RACE TRACK, June 27.—There was one race at Sheep-head this afternoon which lone was worth the price of admission. It was the second race, a dash of a mile, and it brought out such giants of the handicaps division as Broomstick, Ort Wells, Proper and Pulsar. This race promised a cracking good contest, and it also marked the first appearance of Ort Wells and Pulsar.

Another good race was the Bay Ridge Handicap, with a splendid field of horses engaged, the list including Calm, Oxford, Broadcloth, Colonial Girl, Adell and Jaquin.

The test of the card was good and one that particularly was attractive to bettors. The track was in fast shape. Once more, the weather delightful, and all conditions in favor of a grand afternoon's sport.

SHEPSEAD WINNERS.

FIRST RACE—Ladsarion (10 to 1) 1. Miss Point (5 to 1) 2. Jimmy Maher 3.

SECOND RACE—Broomstick (7 to 10) 1. Proper (13 to 5) 2. Ort Wells 3.

THIRD RACE—Early and Often (20 to 1) 1. Cousin Eva (12 to 1) 2. Last Cherry 3.

FOURTH RACE—Calmar (5 to 1) 1. Jaquin (5 to 1) 2. Outcomes 3.

NEW HOLD-UP IN UPPER PART OF MANHATTAN

Louis Byrens Robbed of $825 and Gold Watch by Two Highwaymen.

Louis Byrens, a wealthy auctioneer and real estate broker, of No. 1723 Madison avenue, was held up and robbed of a gold watch and $825 in money last night by two highwaymen, who laid a trap for him that is entirely new to the police.

Mr. Byrens is in business at No. 29 Lapeer street. Yesterday afternoon he received a letter telling him that a Mr. Wheeler, who has a flat at No. 1250 St. Nicholas avenue, which is near One Hundred and Seventy-sixth street, had five hundred and an apartment full of furniture that he would like to sell him.

The writer added that he was very busy and could only spare Mr. Byrens an hour, between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Byrens frequently buys things like this on speculation, and when he left his office last night he took the 623 with him in order to buy the stuff outright if it suited him.

At 7 o'clock he appeared at No. 1250 St. Nicholas avenue, but could find no Mr. Wheeler. He searched the entire neighborhood without success and was leaving the block when two men came along, trundling bicycles.

One of the men stopped him and asked him what time it was. Mr. Byrens took out his handsome watch without the slightest hesitation and as he did so one of the men showed a revolver under his coat and told him he would hold his head if he didn't keep quiet.

The other man then proceeded to go through his clothing. He got the watch and the money. The two then jumped on their bicycles and rode away. Mr. Byrens went to the station-house and made a complaint, but the police were unable to get any trace of the men.

Mr. Byrens says that one of the men was about 5 feet 10 inches tall and was about 35 years of age. He did not get a good look at their faces.

LONG SHOT IS FIRST

THIRD RACE—Early and Often (20 to 1) 1. Cousin Eva (12 to 1) 2. Last Cherry 3.

Colonial Girl made the pair to the stall, but was then outrun by Drak and Calmar. Drak followed by Calmar and Jaquin. On the way into the stretch followed by Jaquin and Outcomes. Colonial Girl was beaten by Jaquin and Outcomes.

ROYAL ARCADE PROTEST RECEIVED

BOSTON, June 27.—The Executive Committee of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum met here to-day according to custom, following the announcement that the Supreme Council would meet at the next session of the Supreme Council in New Jersey.

Abner T. Hookins and Mortimer A. Woodbury, lawyers of Lockport, N. Y., appeared before the executive body as a committee to oppose the new rate system.

They were informed that the Supreme Council had decided to accept the new rate system, but they were given no chance to make their case known.

SUPERBAS AGAIN TACKLE THE PHILLIES

Despite Poor Article of Ball Put Up by Hanlon's Men, Large Crowd Is Out to See Game.

BATTING ORDER.

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Despite the poor article of ball that the Brooklyn team is putting up in its present crippled condition there was no perceptible falling off in the attendance to witness the last game between them and the Phillies.

Manager Hanlon says that his team is up against it. Bergen is a sick man and the infield is not playing anywhere near its usual standard.

A stiff wind of sufficient velocity to bother the fielders blew across the grounds, but the cool breeze was pleasing to the blackhearts.

First Inning.

GIANTS SEEK ONE MORE BOSTON SCALP

Bound to Fatten Their Winning Average at the Expense of the Men from the City of Culture—Large Crowd Present.

BATTING ORDER.

(Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, June 27.—The bright sunshine and the prospects of seeing Boston get another wallop drew quite a large crowd to the Polo Grounds today.

In practice Boston plays a brilliant game and in this work the crowd got real enjoyment. In the game it is different. Having had a hard time of it on the Western trip, McGraw took no chances on letting a real good thing get away and the Giants proceeded to let the visitors have a broadside. In the idea that he should make hay while the sun shines McGraw instructed his men to fatten up.

Early announcements were that Willie would work for the Giants and that Willie would oppose him. Willie is just recovering from the effects of swallowing a chew of tobacco at Cincinnati and was thriving for revenge. Anything would do for him to vent his wrath on Boston and Boston felt the sting intended for Cincinnati. Since swallowing that quad Willie has been suffering from tobacco heart, but is on the road to recovery. He cannot explain how he came to take in the tobacco except that when young he had the habit of swallowing his chewing gum at school.

First Inning.

Dahlen stood in his tracks and faked out Baty's grounder. Dolan was right to the spot and shot a slider into right for a single. Doobis followed. A safe catch by Dolan and Dolan to second. Baty was falling at this time, but Boston's spirit was not dampened. Willie struck out in vain and took the count without protest. Tenney faked a hit one, which Dolan caught. Dolan and Dolan secured while Doobis faked a hit one, which Dolan caught. Dolan and Dolan secured while Doobis faked a hit one, which Dolan caught. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Moran struck out. Raymer cut a clean one-bagger into left and got an anchorage at second on a wild pitch. Willie struck out. Baty's grounder to Dolan. Dolan caught. No run.

Third Inning.

Dolan was not fast enough to beat Dahlen's slider. Dolan was right to the spot and shot a slider into right for a single. Doobis followed. A safe catch by Dolan and Dolan to second. Baty was falling at this time, but Boston's spirit was not dampened. Willie struck out in vain and took the count without protest. Tenney faked a hit one, which Dolan caught. Dolan and Dolan secured while Doobis faked a hit one, which Dolan caught. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

HARVARD AND YALE MEET FOR FINAL GAME

Enormous Crowd Turns Out to Witness Struggle to Decide College Championship.

BATTING ORDER.

(Special to The Evening World.) NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 27.—With a score of hands leading the general sentiment at the head of as many classes of Yale graduates Old Man Paced to-day to win the championship in baseball from Harvard. If noise and enthusiasm could win, Yale certainly had a wild game since the days when Stags wore a Yale uniform and Yale and Harvard fought some of the greatest baseball battles in history.
